

Control Your Risks before they Control You!

"Risk Varies Inversely with Knowledge"

How do you identify risks on your IT projects? Rely on experience? Implement a costly assessment process? Just forget about them? Wouldn't it be better to have an inexpensive tool that could be used time and again?

Procertis, a leading transformation consultancy, has embedded its experience in the area of project risk management into a simple downloadable tool - The Clarity Strategic Risk Management Tool - for you to run on your PC, when you want and as often as you want.

- It provides a repeatable framework of trigger questions that probe the seven key areas of project and strategic risk
- It rapidly constructs a graphical risk profile, identifying those areas of greatest concern which should form the focus of your management attention

- It can be used as often as you wish to monitor progress, reassess the risk profile and refocus effort as required
- Its ease of use promotes the good habit of risk assessment and risk reduction within your organisation, so that you control the risks before they control you

Strategic Risk Management Tool £995 + VAT

The Procertis Clarity Strategic Risk Management Tool is available for immediate download and purchase from our website:
